OVERVIEW

What this is.

Most agency sales calls die for the same three reasons: the operator did not prepare, they missed the buying signal, and they never asked for the business. Voltr Copilot solves all three at once. Before every call you get a full prospect dossier. During the call an AI copilot reads the conversation in real time and surfaces exactly what to say when. After the call you get a graded breakdown and a pre-written follow-up ready to send.

This is not a post-call analyser. This is not a transcript tool. This is a live sales weapon that operates while the conversation is happening, built specifically for how agency owners actually sell.

You operate it yourself. Support is AI-powered and 24/7. No coaching calls, no group programmes, no one-to-one mentorship. You pay for software that does the work.

SECTION 01

Before the call

Thirty minutes before every scheduled call, Voltr Copilot pulls together a full prospect dossier and delivers it to your inbox. No more walking into a call blind because you forgot to research the prospect.

- › Company overview pulled from their website, LinkedIn, reviews, and ad activity
- › Decision-maker profile with role tenure, recent posts, and mutual connections
- › Industry-specific pain points for their exact niche, pulled from a pre-loaded knowledge base
- › Three personalised opening lines calibrated to their situation
- › Likely objections with pre-written responses before they raise them
- › Recommended pricing anchored to their business size and market

During the call

The AI copilot listens to both speakers in real time. When the prospect raises an objection, the counter-response appears. When they show a buying signal, the closing prompt appears. When you are about to run long, a time-check appears. You stay in the conversation. The AI does the thinking.

- › Live objection handling tuned to the specific objection in the specific context
- › Buying-signal detection with the exact close scripted and ready
- › Talk-ratio monitor, alerting you when you talk too much (target: 30 to 40 percent)
- › Competitor intelligence if they name-drop another provider
- › Pricing guidance calibrated to what this specific prospect can invest
- › Next-step prompter at the close so no call ends without a commitment

After the call

Within seconds of ending, you get a full breakdown. What was discussed, what was agreed, what went well, what you missed, and a pre-written follow-up email ready to review and send. If the call progressed to proposal stage, you get a proposal draft too.

- › Full transcript saved and searchable
- › AI call summary covering discussion, objections, agreements, and outstanding items
- › Call score across 10 dimensions, each graded 1 to 10 with specific improvement notes
- › Follow-up email generated in your voice, personalised, ready to send in one click
- › Proposal draft auto-generated if the call reached pricing (customise and send)
- › Action items extracted and added to a task list with due dates

Practice mode

An AI prospect that simulates realistic sales calls in your niche. You pitch, the AI raises objections, you practice. The AI scores the practice call the same way it scores real calls. Repeat until the mechanics are in your body and the objections do not rattle you.

- › Prospect personas tuned to your specific niche and sales cycle
- › Increasing difficulty as you improve
- › Scored on the same 10 dimensions as your real calls
- › Best-of library surfacing your strongest moments across all calls
- › Weekly improvement email with one specific thing to focus on next

HOW YOU KNOW IT IS WORKING

How you know it is working

Every call you take produces a dashboard entry. Searchable transcript, a score across 10 dimensions, the AI's specific notes on what was strong and what missed. Monday morning a weekly trend email lands showing your improvement curve. You do not guess whether the product is making you better. You watch the number move.

- › Live call-score dashboard updated after every call
- › Searchable transcript library with keyword search
- › 10-dimension scoring rubric, trend tracked week over week
- › Weekly trend email: close rate, talk ratio, objection-handling score
- › Best-of library: your strongest moments extracted across all calls

SECTION 06

Pricing

Complete transparency on what you pay.

- › Founder rate: $67 per month, locked for the life of your account
- › Regular price after launch: $97 per month
- › You save $360 per year as a founder
- › No setup fee. No minimum contract. Cancel any time.
- › Billing starts when the product ships. Your founder rate is captured now.

SECTION 07

Who this is for

Agency owners and solo operators who take sales calls and want to close a higher percentage of them. Particularly powerful if you are currently winging it on calls, losing on price, or going cold after discovery.

- › You take at least 2 to 3 sales calls per week
- › You sometimes lose deals you feel you should have closed
- › You want to close more without hiring a sales coach
- › You want a tool that works with you, not a course that teaches you

Who this is not for

Be honest with yourself about fit.

- › You rarely or never take sales calls
- › You want someone to review your calls manually and give you personal coaching
- › You want a tool that books calls for you (that is Client Machine, $497)
- › You want done-for-you sales outsourcing

Frequently asked.

Does the prospect see Voltr Copilot during the call?

No. Two display modes. Side-panel mode shows prompts next to your call window for you only. Stealth mode uses a floating overlay that stays invisible during screen shares. Your prospect has no idea it is there.

Which video platforms does it work with?

Zoom, Google Meet, and Microsoft Teams on desktop. A Chrome extension provides the side-panel mode and a standalone Electron app provides the stealth mode. Pick either or run both.

Does it record my calls?

It transcribes in real time using Deepgram. The transcript is stored so you can search past calls and review your scoring. You can delete any transcript at any time. We never share transcripts externally, and prospects are not identified beyond what they say in the call.

Can I disable the AI prompts mid-call?

Yes. One hotkey hides the overlay entirely. Transcription continues so you still get the post-call score and follow-up, but the live coaching turns off.

What if I speak a language other than English?

English is the launch language. Spanish and Portuguese are on the roadmap for the first quarter post-launch. Founders in those markets get first access.

Is this a contract? Can I cancel?

No contract. Cancel any time. If you cancel, your founder rate is gone, so most people stick around.

Lock in founder pricing. Ship in the coming weeks.

Your rate stays locked for the life of your account. Only 250 founder spots available at this tier.
